

European Forum Pre Conference

Education for everyone

Education for everyone is the theme of the European Forum Pre Conference in Amsterdam, August, 6 2013.

Europe is a multilingual continent, where the diversity of languages, cultures and traditions is highly valued. This diversity is evident in the education systems, culture, assessment methods and values.

In our Forum Pre Conference we will discuss some aspects with which the countries in Europe are dealing when making sure that education is for everyone. What do the countries have in common? What are they doing differently? How do we Europeans accommodate the diversity of methods and experiences in schools or school systems, multicultural education and teaching? There will be inputs from a number of countries and lively discussions amongst the participants. Join us and hear what Europe has to say on this topic and tell us your view. We are looking forward to seeing you in Amsterdam.
