The European Regional Conference
Oslo, August 2009

The official recommendation from Iceland reads:

Dr Sigrún Klara Hannesdóttir has extensive knowledge of the Society. She has been involved from the time she became founder of the first chapter in Iceland in 1975, and has held many positions on chapter, state, regional and international levels.

She is well known within the DKG Society and has served as the European Regional Director. During her biennium she visited most of the European States.

This biennium she is the first European member to serve in the position of a vice president on the Administrative Board. She is the former National Librarian of Iceland, the first woman to hold that position in the country. She is always ready to do work for the Society. We believe she is a very worthy representative of the European Membership.
